MORE QUERIES.

Mr. Slater's article in last week's News suggests more queries to my mind that I would like to have considered. The Stone & Gove case against the city of Baxter Springs, which has been in the courts for several years accumulating costs and lawyer's fees to enormous proportions, and which the tax-ridden people of Baxter will have to pay. Why is not that case disposed of? I understand that Messrs. Stone and Hornor have a personal quarrel; if that stands in the way of a settlement of that lawsuit against the city, why has the council not placed this case in the hands of the city attorney, Mr. Smith, who being a thoroughly competent lawyer and personally on good terms with Col. Stone, can settle that suit satisfactorily to the city? Col. Stone has made to Mr.
Smith propositions of the most favorable kind for an adjustment of this suit. Why does not the city council authorize and empower Mr. Smith to settle it?

Why should not the city council have a complete statement made of every dollar received and expended from the beginning of the work at the dam in 1884 to the present time?

Why should there be any further appropriations of the city's money for switch building or other like purposes until the present lawsuits against the city and other unsettled matters are adjusted?

Why should not the people become interested in the administration of the city's affairs and not let it remain under the thumb of a clique? The poor widow who paid $12 taxes on her cottage last year will pay $13 this year and so on increasing, if the city is to be involved in perpetual lawsuits and extravagant appropriations. Is not the city debt now too large? Heavy taxes make a discontented people.

Why should the voters and tax-payers not begin to think about economy, retrenchment and reform in city affairs as the spring election is close at hand?

Why should we not stand by our mayor, who has not hesitated to stand against a majority of the city council when he had the law and the best interests of the city on his side?

Ticks and Lice on Cattle.

Southern Live Stock Journal.

Dr. E. D. Salmon, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington, writes to Daniel Dennett, giving a remedy for ticks and lice upon cattle, which our farmers will do well to observe. He says:

"No remedies can be given internally that will prevent the appearance of ticks and lice upon cattle, though feeding the cattle liberally with grain and a nourishing diet, thereby making them more thrifty and healthy; and better able to withstand the attacks of these pests, is an important means of prevention.

"The ticks should be removed periodically and destroyed. New broods will appear as they hatch out on logs and stones in the woods and get upon the cattle.

"The lice may be removed by various parasitides and the cattle will remain free from them for some time if the treatment is thorough and given to all the cattle, though they will appear again if the cattle roam in pastures with the cattle of other farmers that have not been treated for the removal of lice.

Some of the methods of treatment recommended are to sprinkle with powdered wood ashes, to rub with sulphur ointment or whale oil, with water saturated with petroleum or kerosene, or a solution of sulphuric acid or potassium or lime (four ounces to one gallon of water). Dusting with Persian insect powder is also an effective remedy if applied freely and persistently. The application of the insect powder is best accomplished by placing a quantity of the powder in a flour dredger or large pepper box, sprinkle freely over the backs of the cattle, especially over the shoulders, along the top of the neck and behind the ears.
Repeat daily for three or four days and at the end of that time sprinkle the powder behind the hind legs and under the fore legs to destroy the insects that may be remaining there.

"Another remedy is stavesacre seeds, four ounces, white hellebore, one ounce; boil in a gallon of water until two quarts remain. Apply with a brush to those parts where the lice are seen."

A Good One.

Mr. W. H. Faldrige, druggist, Escondido, California, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best selling medicine I handle. In fact I sell more of it than all other cough medicines combined. Everyone who has used it speaks in glowing terms of its efficacy." For sale at Craig's Drug Store.

There is an establishment in Sedalia at which 1,500 turkeys are killed daily. It employs 75 hands and "pickers" make from $1.50 to $3 a day. The turkeys are killed by running the blade of a knife through the roof of the mouth into the brain. They are shipped to New York.

A Well Established Fact.

The fact has been abundantly proven that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the most prompt, most reliable and most successful medicine yet discovered for acute throat and lung diseases, such as coughs, cold and croup.

Chetopa Advance: In making the assessment the assessor if he makes a mistake at all ought to make it on the side of a too high rate. We do not mean for this to apply as a whole, but in specific cases. If a man's assessment is too high he has a remedy.
But when it is too low there is no remedy. Did you ever know of a man going before the commissioners and asking that his assessment be raised?

There will be a special service at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning.
It is desired that there be a full attendance on the part of the congregation. The subject of the evening service will be "Not Remission, but Submission," or "The Remedy for Existing Evils." A very cordial invitation to be present is extended to all.
Jas. T. Coover, Pastor.

Rev. A. R. Miller has been delivering a series of addresses this week at the M. E. church which have been fairly well attended. On Wednesday evening his subject was "Address to Fathers," Thursday evening "Address to Mothers" and last evening "Address to Business Men." All were of unusual interest.

After a Dance.

He (diffidently):
Not since last year! So glad again to find you!
I've often thought of this sweet place—and you.

I wish I dared of your last words remind you.

She (laughingly): Yes, most boys do!

He (excitedly):

"Auf Wiedersehen," are caprice bereft me.

"Boy!" Aye, in years, but firm in manhood yet;

I would have banked on hopes your deep eyes left me.

She (calmly): Most fools bet!

He (reproachfully):

How cruel! I have marked your every motion.

Have caught your least light smile all night, I think;

Drank in each glance and grace with fresh devotion.

She (demurely): Yes, most men drink!

He (bitterly):

Sweetheart, for one brief moment let me fold
you.

And softly on your fair, false lips a last kiss set;

And then these eyes shall never more behold you—

She (softly): Don't go—just yet!

—John Moran.

A German savant has invented a process whereby butter can be made from the milk of the coconut. The product is white, singularly free from acid and easily digested. Oleomargarine would receive a bad black-eye if it were not for the fact that the butter made by the German scientist costs $3.25 per ounce to manufacture.

"The Leading Western Newspaper."

The Kansas City Times has earned the above title by always being in the forefront rank of the metropolitan western newspapers in advocating the interests of the West. In the eastern money centers the Times is looked upon as the best reflector of the condition of the West, and this puts it in the position of being the best advocate the West can have. It has not let its opportunities pass, but on every occasion has done all in its power toward the upbuilding of this great Western country. Among the principal things it has advocated, some of which have been successful, are:

Opening of Oklahoma.

Opening of the Cherokee Strip; Irrigation for the arid regions;

Cheap transportation for Kansas.

In this good work the Kansas City Times solicits the support of every Western man. Its Daily is the brightest and best edited in the West, and the Weekly, with its twelve large pages, ranks with any weekly newspaper in the world.

The Kansas City Times was also the first to inaugurate the system of fast trains out of Kansas City carrying the regular edition of the Sunday Times and distributing it over Kansas two hundred miles west by night express, in three hours before the regular train leaves Kansas City.

ecuted and at reasonable prices at the
